The Hongkong Telegraph.

HONGKONG, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 8, 1890.

THAT erratic local personality known as Mr. HARRY WICKING has again made himself a conspicuous object for public comment. There is an unfortunate class of men in this world who never know when to let well alone, who lack the discretion to keep quiet when childish babbling can do no earthly good, and Mr. WICKING would appear to belong to that class. This gentleman is a shareholder in the Hongkong and Kowloon Wharf and Godown Company, Limited, and he evidently intends not to allow the Hongkong community to forget that fact. It will be remembered that at the third ordinary annual meeting of the Wharf and Godown Company, held on the 28th of June last, a proposal was made and adopted "that a Committee of Investigation be appointed to examine into and report on the working of the Company's business, the directors to appoint two representatives and the shareholders two," the Board of Directors acquiescing in the proposed inquiry. At an extraordinary meeting, held on July 19th, the Hon. C. P. CHATER and Mr. L. POKSNECKER were appointed to represent the Board, Mr. C. S. TAYLOR and Mr. HARRY WICKING being the nominees of the general body of shareholders. When this resolution was first brought up for confirmation at another extraordinary meeting, held on August 5th, at which only five shareholders were present outside the Board of Directors, it was lost by two votes to one; but on being put to the vote a second time it was declared carried by four to two. These facts are important as showing exactly the amount of interest taken by shareholders generally in the proposed inquiry.

The ostensible object of the investigation was to examine into the details of the Company's working, and in view of the unsatisfactory character of the management during the previous year, and the opinions current as to the expensive, inefficient and otherwise defective methods employed, we cannot but think that good grounds existed for the action initiated by certain shareholders, and further that the Directors acted wisely in offering every facility for a thorough examination into the alleged defective system. And now Mr. WICKING comes to the front:—

To the Hon. J. J. KESWICK, Chairman of the Hongkong & Kowloon Wharf & Godown Co., Limited.

SIR,—I forwarded to you my report on the above Company on the 3rd September. As I have not been favoured with an acknowledgment of the same, I shall be glad to learn what steps the Directors propose to take in this matter. I have been led to believe it was part of my duty as one of the representatives of the general body of shareholders to have sent copies of my report to each shareholder, and for this reason I am all the more anxious to learn what steps the Directors intend to take in order to secure this publicity. It is also desirable to know whether or not it is the intention of the Directors to call a meeting of the shareholders to consider the points raised in the report. I shall be glad of an early answer so that I may be in a position to satisfy the inquiries made to me by shareholders in the Company. In any case this letter and a reply thereto will be published for general information. I have the honour to remain, Sir, Your obedient servant,

HARRY WICKING.

From this letter it seems that instead of a combined inquiry by the four members of the Committee, that might have been of some utility, each one was called upon to investigate and report independently—a most unsatisfactory and practically valueless mode of procedure. However, that will doubtless be seen hereafter. Mr. WICKING had completed and sent in his report to the Chairman of the Company on September 3rd, and now he wants to know what steps the Directors propose to take in the matter—a very natural and not unreasonable desire, if perhaps slightly premature considering that the reports of the other investigators had not been received; but when he says he has been led to believe that it was part of his duty, as one of the representatives of the general body of shareholders, to have sent copies of his report to each shareholder, he talks arrant nonsense and displays an ignorance of business routine for which those who know him best will scarcely feel inclined to give him full credit. As a matter of course the various reports will be fully and carefully considered by the Board of Directors, and it will be their duty to adopt, reject, or otherwise deal with any suggestions that may have been made. But it should not be overlooked that the uncontrolled management of the Company is solely vested in the hands of the Directors, who are personally responsible to the shareholders, and therefore it by no means follows that any suggested alterations or improvements in the business working of the concern will meet the approval of the Board; nor should we think it likely, as Mr.

WICKING assumes, unless under exceptional circumstances, that the Directors will either give publicity to the reports or submit them in detail to the criticism and decision of an extraordinary general meeting. Mr. WICKING entirely misconceives the special purpose for which the Committee of Investigation was appointed. It was not to prepare a series of reports for the edification of a few more or less interested shareholders, but simply to make inquiry into certain details of working, with the object, if possible, of enabling the Directors to effect any improvements on the present system. The "points" raised in the reports will be decided by the Board, and shareholders who wish to make inquiries have no earthly right to bother Mr. WICKING, as he says has been the case, but should apply to the Secretary of the Company. Mr. WICKING has no responsibility whatever in the matter; he has done the work he volunteered to perform and his mission is ended. With all these plain facts staring him in the face, the indiscretion displayed by this irrepressible gentleman in attempting to "put on the screw" in the letter above quoted—"In any case this letter and the reply thereto will be published for general information"—is difficult to understand. It seems marvellous that he did not even go the length of threatening to publish his report for general information, and carefully reading his letter between the lines that would almost appear to be Mr. WICKING's aim and desire. Needless to say the Chairman of the Board rose to the occasion. His reply was brief but crushing. Here it is:—

Hongkong, 3rd October, 1890.

SIR.—The report which you forwarded on the 3rd ultimo was duly received and handed by me to Mr. Osborne, Secretary of the Hongkong and Kowloon Wharf and Godown Company, Limited. As soon as Mr. Osborne has received the reports of other members of the Special Committee, they will be laid before the Directors together with your own.

I am, Sir, Your most obedient servant,

J. J. KESWICK,

Chairman, Hongkong & Kowloon Wharf and Godown Co., Limited.

Harry Wicking, Esq.

Mr. HARRY WICKING would have been discreet had he exercised a little more patience before so aimlessly rushing into print, as the only "general information" his correspondence affords is the very uncomplimentary suggestion that the man who "talks all he knows" will talk more than he knows. Great talkers discharge too quickly to take always true aim.

THE "PERAL."

MADRID, September 28th.

According to the decision of the Admiralty, there is nothing new in the construction of the Peral. A novel submarine boat is to be made.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

MONSIEUR A. COQ-PORT, Consul-General for Chili at Tokyo, arrived here this afternoon from Marseilles by the M. M. steamer Natal.

TWO handsome brasses have been executed in memory of the crew of the ill-fated gunboat Wasp, and were to be erected in the Dockyard Church, Sheerness, last month.

THE Superintendent of the P. & O. S. N. Co. courteously informs us that the steamship Rosetta, with the next English mail, left Singapore for this port at 5 a.m. to-day.

A REGULAR meeting of St. John Lodge, No. 618, S.C., will be held at Freemasons Hall, Zealand Street, on Tuesday, the 8th inst., at 8.30 p.m. precisely. Visiting brethren are cordially invited.

THE formation of a company called the Eastern Steam Navigation Company, with a capital of 500,000 rubles, is announced from St. Petersburg. It will establish a direct line of steamers between Russian ports and ports of India, China, Japan, Korea, and Eastern Siberia.

A REMARKABLE bowling performance was accomplished by Briggs at Scarborough on the 4th ult. Playing for Lord Londesborough's Eleven against the Yorkshire Eleven, he took nine of the ten Australian wickets for 31 runs, the innings closing for the party total of 77.

A LONDON correspondent, writing on Sept. 5th about the Trust and Loan Company of China, Japan, and the Straits, writes that "during the last week the market has been somewhat unsettled, and the price of the shares has fallen to 10s. 6d. for the ordinary, and 10s. 10d. for the preferred."

WE understand that the new Canadian Pacific liner Empress of India will make her trial trip on the 10th of this month.

THE M. M. steamer Natal, which arrived here at 2 o'clock to-day, was delayed about 19 hours on the way up from Saigon, having encountered a severe gale on the 6th instant, and altered her course to avoid running into what appeared to be a typhoon. Her cargo had apparently shifted, as she had a bad list to port.

THE Agents of the "Shire" steamer Cardigan-shire, Messrs. Adamson, Bell & Co., who left Foochow on the 30th ultimo, received a telegram to-day from the Agents at Nagasaki enquiring after the steamer. It is only a three days run from Foochow to Nagasaki, and as the steamer is now nine days out considerable anxiety is felt for her safety. She is loaded with London cargo principally, but has no passengers.

SAYS the Amoy Gazette of the 29th ult.—"The residents in Kooling escaped this morning what might have been an unpleasant visit. A very big tiger was killed in the sea, near the Milk Company's establishment, by the fishing people. It measured 7 feet 4 inches. They were aroused by the groans of the brute which, we presume, were due to exhaustion from long swimming. Alarms were given and other kinsmen joined, and with hooks punched the head of the animal until it was dead. We understand it was sold to one of our local sportsmen to place him against the many trophies of his own."

THE good "Richard Parsons" was the scene of a general rumour last night, owing to the steward coming on board inebriated with something more fiery than the exuberance of his own verbosity. Dashing into the cabin and turning almost everything topsy-turvy, he soon attracted the attention of the captain, George Freeman, who remonstrated with him in vain, it being at last necessary to have him put in irons and given in charge. The noble steward was amongst the busy throng at the Magistrate's court this morning, where he admitted the charge and was allowed to free himself from the unpleasantness of the situation by contributing the modest sum of two Mexicans to Her Gracious's exchequer.

Paikau and fantan players, who now abound in this colony, will soon have to find pastures new wherein to practice their skill at these many and harmless amusements, for the police are evidently bent upon harassing them ad lib. This morning five keen-eyed specimens of the gambling den "boss" tribe were placed on the stand at the Police Court, where Mr. Wise enquired into the charge preferred against them of running a public gambling house at No. 74 Stanley Street. Mr. Wilkinson appeared on behalf of the prisoners, and applied for a remand until Friday, which his Worship granted after hearing the formal evidence of the police as to the arrest of the defendants, whom they caught red-handed at their old games last night.

MANILA exchanges report the partial inundation of the city by the river Pasig, on the 29th ult. The Pasig is only about three feet below the level of the greater part of the city, and a violent typhoon caused it to overflow until many of the streets were three or four feet deep in water, and communication had to be made in bancas, or dug-outs. Many buildings were blown down, about 100 metres (the Eastern Dock destroyed), the posts carrying the telephone and electric light wires snapped off, and a large portion of the railway embankment washed away. The whole island of Luzon suffered, but no mention is made of any loss of life. At the height of the storm the wind, as measured at the Observatory, travelled at the rate of over sixty miles an hour, the storm being the most serious experienced since 1882.

M. HENRI DE VILMORIN, President of the Botanical Society of France, recently lectured before the Royal Horticultural Society on the subject of salads. He spoke of the nutritive value of salads due to the potash salts, which, though present in vegetables generally, are eliminated in the process of cooking. These are some of the plants he enumerated as being used in France for salads: Lettuce, corn salad, common chervil, barbelle de capucin, cress, and Estivade, ending with several varieties of chicory forms of green, watercress, purslane in small quantities blanched with salt, Brussels chicory, the roots of celeriac, rampion and radish, the bulbs of stachys, the stalks of celery, the flowers of nasturtium and yucca, the fruit of capsicum and tomato, and in the south of France, rocket, pteridium and Spanish onions. Various herbs are added to a French salad to garnish and flavor it—chervil, chives, shallot and borage flowers. In addition, many boiled vegetables are dressed with vinegar and oil. The lecturer exhibited specimens of distinction, barbelle de capucin, and other varieties of salad vegetables, which he commended to the notice of gardeners as most useful and palatable.

PRIVATE correspondence received in Singapore last week from Sydney, N. S. W. gives notes of the effects of a strike in Australia. For instance butter went up from 1/6 to 3/ per lb. in the course of one day, while the rumour of an impending strike among the carcass butchers and slaughtermen at the City abattoirs on Glebe Island produced a considerable increase in the price of meat, by which of course the retail butchers profited considerably. And these increases in price are noticeable in a lesser degree among all classes of provisions, all the satisfaction the housekeeper gets when complaining of the price of commodities being the laconic reply "the strike." And of course trade is affected, and the invariably keen competition which has been insisted on by the Government, and which Old Colonials are dreading the worst, for it must be remembered that the last few years, particularly in Melbourne and Sydney, have been years of depression. The seamen, it is stated, were expressing the greatest dissatisfaction, and a few of the most energetic had taken selections in adjacent country districts, and were already battling with primary agricultural difficulties.

SOME interesting disclosures will probably be elicited at the Police Court on Friday forenoon, John Minihinnitt, the foreman in the Public Works Department, who was dismissed from custody the other day by Mr. Woodhouse when charged with outraging a Chinese child, has obtained a summons against Mr. Fraser-Smith, Editor of the Hongkong Telegraph, and Mr. G. W. Ward, a reporter on the staff of that paper, on a charge of unlawfully and maliciously conspiring, combining, confederating and agreeing together to libel the person of the said Minihinnitt, with the offence of which he was accused at the Magistrate's court. Ward is also credited (on the summons) with having, in pursuance of and according to the said conspiracy, combination, confederacy, and agreement, sworn a false information against Minihinnitt, &c., &c. In addition to this Minihinnitt has issued two separate writs against Mr. Fraser-Smith, in which he claims $500 damages for alleged libel and $5000 for alleged malicious prosecution. We understand that these proceedings have been insisted on by the Government, and gladly welcome the opportunity that will be afforded us of thoroughly vindicating the position we took up in the editorial dealing with Minihinnitt's case, published in our issue of September 26th.

THE House of Representatives have passed the Tariff Bill, and it will come into operation on the 6th of October.

THE Spanish Government, fearing that the agitation in Portugal will end in a revolution, have decided to mass troops on the frontier.

It will be observed by Dr. Dobereck's weather report to-day that the north-east monsoon has thoroughly set in, and that the wind now prevailing from Vladivostok in the north to Bolinao in the south. The south-west monsoon is still making itself felt from Cape St. James to the southward, but has now almost died away; light southerly breezes, with smooth sea, taking the place of S.W. and westerly gales with, that dread of the fair sex, mountainous rollers.

VIC-ADMIRAL Sir Nowell Salmon, V.C. whose command of the China Station expires in December, will be succeeded by Vice-Admiral Sir Frederick Richards, who was Commodore on the West Coast of Africa during the Zulu campaign and Boer wars. He was aide-de-camp to the Queen from June, 1879, to June, 1883, and a Lord of the Admiralty from July, 1882, to May, 1885. Admiral Richards was next Commander-in-Chief on the East Indies Station, and commanded the naval forces during the Burmah Annexation War, 1885-86. He was a member of a committee formed for reporting on the lessons learned from the naval disaster of 1888. Admiral Richards has selected Mr. Canfield, paymaster of the Vernon, as his secretary.

As requested by H.E. the Administrator, Miss Gracie Plaiside's company gave a second performance of "Little Lord Fauntleroy" at the City Hall, last night. The chief was handsomely happy and the result was a dismal empty house. This, however, made no difference so far as the general "go" of the play was concerned, and Miss Gracie Plaiside, who is a bundle of smiles and sunshine, is to be highly complimented upon her acting under such depressing circumstances. Last night's performance, in fact, spoke volumes for the pluck and talent of all the leading members of the company. To-morrow night that funniest of funny comedies, "Uncle," will be produced, and anyone who isn't glad he's alive after seeing it—well, he ought to go and die.

THE GAMBLING CRUSADE.

WEI-SING AGENTS IMPRISONED.

At the Police Court this morning Mr. Wise had again before him the two principals in a Wei-sing lottery agency established at 207 Queen's Road Central, who were charged on remand with keeping such agency. The Crown Solicitor (Mr. Tuckwell) prosecuted, and Mr. J. J. Francis, Q.C. (instructed by Mr. Mossop) defended. The evidence for the defence was as follows:—

Poon Sun Hing, master of the Yan On Tai shop, Canton, said that his business was that of a general Canton postal agency, and he also transmitted letters between Hongkong and the Wei Sing Lottery agents at Canton. He only received letters from the defendants, enclosing money and applications for tickets, and forwarded them to the lottery people, who sent him in return the tickets and two cents return money for each dollar's worth. He then sent the tickets down to the defendants, who distributed them to the subscribers, and received one of the two candareens he had been paid. He had seen, among the other applications, one or more signed "Ma-ti-sen" (Inspector Mathieson).

Cross-examined—The defendants were supplied with capital by the same man who financed for witness. Neither he nor they could supply the lottery tickets—they could only receive and forward the money and applications.

Lam Tai Nam, a clerk in the Wei Sing Lottery, said that he wrote out the tickets according to the applications forwarded by the last witness. He denied that any came to Hongkong.

His Worship—He thinks the Gambling Ordinance will apply to him (A Laugh.)

Witness admitted writing one out for "Ma-ti-sen" in Hongkong. It had been forwarded by the last witness. No blank tickets were supplied to Hongkong agents, or sold here, except in that way.

Li Kiu, a foh in the defendants' employ, said that the firm received Wei-sing tickets from the first witness at the post-office, and also forwarded applications and money from investors here, but none were sold in the shop. The applications and money were brought to them, and they simply sent them on. They got one candareen for each dollar so forwarded, from the Yan On Tai firm.

Yung Hok Tsau, the keeper of a similar "post-office" in Queen's Road, and defendant in another case, said that he simply transmitted the applications for tickets as they came in; he neither received the money nor paid the winners. Mr. Francis said that that was his case. He submitted that on the evidence it was perfectly clear that the method was on which the defendants conducted their business. The Lottery was established by the Chinese Government at Canton, and as the most convenient way of getting in the applications for tickets from other places they arranged with the native postal agencies to send them in expeditiously, and in return paid the agents liberally. The defendants only kept a branch of the forwarding agency, simply collecting applications for tickets, but selling none. They were paid for this—not by the Wei-sing Lottery firm, but by the Yan On Tai shop. The only question for his Worship was whether such dealing remotely was it was from direct traffic in tickets, was "dealing" in the sense of the Ordinance. He submitted that it could not be, in the ordinary sense, any more than the employ of a rice merchant could be said to deal in rice, and he asked that the case be dismissed.

Mr. Johnson, for the prosecution, urged that it was just the case that the Ordinance was intended to deal with. The law intended to stop the sale of Wei-sing lottery tickets, and if the public could not get them from the agents, they tried to do so through their agents, the defendants. However many hands the tickets went through before reaching the purchaser, the defendants were still the agents. They kept no general post office, but simply forwarded and distributed lottery tickets and he asked for their punishment.

His Worship said that the only defence put forward was that the men simply kept a forwarding agency. On the face of it, however, their real business was to obtain and distribute tickets directly, practically, from the lottery firm in Canton, and he thought that the case came down to a question of fact. With regard to the punishment, he had no alternative but to imprison them with hard labor. However, in the event of the appeal which he supposed would be made, they could in the interim regain their freedom on sub-tantial bail.

Mr. Francis intimated that an appeal would be made against any conviction, and asked, in view of the number of cases involved, and the exceptional nature of the prosecution, that bail should be allowed pending appeal. He undertook that the business should be suspended in the meantime.

Mr. Johnson opposed such a course.

His Worship committed the men to goal for a month, the same sentence being passed in the four other cases, and allowed bail at the rate of $1,000 each.
